Documenting the Centenary of the Irish Civil War June to August 1922

Robert Benninghoff

Cover mailed from Dublin GPO to New Jersey and Postmarked 28 June 2022.

The 100th Anniversary of the Start of the Irish Civil War

The four stamps show various aspects of 1921 / 22 Irish History

- (a) Truce Stamp - Marking end of War for Irish Independence
- (b) Treaty Stamp - Marking the Anglo-Irish Peace Treaty signed on 6 December 1921
- (c) Dublin Castle Stamp - Marking the British handover of Dublin Castle on 20 Jan 1922
- (d) Irish Civil War Stamp - shows Four Courts Bombardment

The Summer Revealers reviewed the start of the Irish Civil War and the Battle for the Four Courts. This article will look at several other aspects of the War that occurred during the summer months of 1922 beginning with the 16 June Irish General Election.

Figure 1 marks the Centenary of the 1918 British General Election in which Sinn Fein won most of the Irish Votes. The Irish decided to form their own Parliament, (Dail Eireann) rather than take their seats in London.

 Irish Civil Disobedience to British Rule was commemorated in 2018 with the two 1-euro stamps marking 100 years of Irish Popular Democracy through voting.

Michael Collins set the next Irish General Election for 18 June for the 26 counties of southern Ireland. However, in May, Collins and De Valera made an agreement to hand pick Sinn Fein Candidates in proportion to their support for and against the Treaty. This was an effort by the two former colleagues to avoid a Civil War. The British Prime Minister (Lloyd George) heard of the agreement and told Collins to stop dealing with De Valera and the IRA holding the Four Courts or the British would consider the Treaty void. The British appeared to be edging the Irish onward to a Civil War.

Collins was forced to repudiate his pack with De Valera, two days before the election. Results of the June General Election are shown in Figure 2

The results of the General election show that Sinn Fein (Pro and Anti Treaty) won most of the Dail Eireann seats -- ironically along the same proportions agreed to by Collins and De Valera in May.

The Labour & Farmers Parties were also Pro-Treaty & willing to support a Collins Government

Lloyd George informed Collins that he now had a popular mandate to Govern without the assistance of the IRA and Anti-Treaty Sinn Fein. The assassination of Sir Henry Wilson (close Friend of Lloyd George) on June 22, finally pushed the British to mandate that Collins remove the IRA from the Four Courts. Peace was no longer an option.

The Battle for Dublin

The first shots of the Civil War were at 4:30 am on June 28 when the National Army bombarded the Four Courts with artillery borrowed from the British Army. The battle for the Four Courts lasted until June 30 when an explosion destroyed most of the buildings and the IRA garrison was killed or captured.

However, the IRA attacked and held other parts of Dublin to support their comrades in the Four Courts. Intense fighting, mostly in central Dublin lasted for a week and for the second time in 6 years much of O'Connell Street was devastated. The National army borrowed additional artillery and pounded the IRA positions setting many buildings on fire (Figure 3 and 4)

The IRA captured many of the Cities in Munster in June and July of 1922 including Limerick, Waterford, and Cork. Both Limerick and Waterford were recaptured by the National Army on July 20.

The National Army assault on Waterford is notable because it was the first amphibious landing by the Irish Navy when 100 men were landed on the quays in Waterford harbour

The recapture of Cork was delayed after the IRA blew up the Mallow Viaduct over the Blackwater River on August 9 (Figure 5). Cork was isolated by rail from the rest of the county forcing the National Army to once again use amphibious landings to capture the city.

The IRA attacked trains and railway infrastructure beginning in March, but widespread destruction intensified after June, resulting in the suspension of passenger service for most of the summer (Figure 6).

(a) The importance of Railways to Ireland (top view)
(b) The current Mallow Viaduct with a Michael Collin stamp cancelled in Mallow 19 Sept 2022 (middle view)
(c) Two Stamps issued in 1996 marking 50 years of the Irish Navy. But the Navy was first used on July 20 1922 during Waterford amphibious landings (bottom view)

Fermoy was the last town held by the IRA and was captured on August 11. Liam Lynch, IRA Chief of Staff, ordered his forces to stop holding on to cities and towns and to pursue Guerilla Warfare against the National Government similar to the attacks on the British during the War for Independence a year earlier.

The Civil War would take a fateful turn in August 1922 with the death of Arthur Griffith and the assassination of Michael Collins. Both events are reviewed on the following page.

Arthur Joseph Griffith March 1871 to August 1922

Arthur Griffith was an Irish writer, newspaper editor, and politician who founded Sinn Féin in 1905 (Figure 7). He was head of the Irish delegation that negotiated the Anglo-Irish Treaty and Griffith became President of Dail Eireann in January 1922 after Eamon de Valera resigned in protest of the Treaty. Griffith was the first Irish Leader to be buried as Head of State (Figure 8)

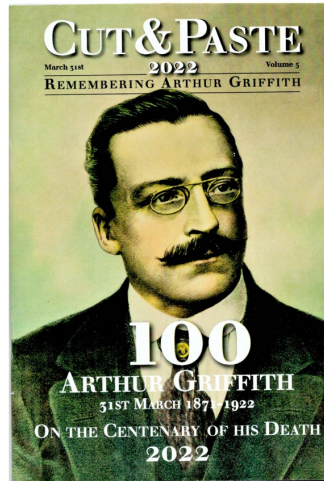

Figure 8
Commemorative booklet
"Remembering Arthur Griffith" published by Printwell design Ltd, Dublin, March 31 2022

The 37 pages explore the Legacy and Times of a very dynamic Irish Statesman, who was a strong advocate for peace between the two Sinn Féin factions.

Michael Collins (Micheal O Coileain) October 1890 to August 1922

Michael Collins was an Irish revolutionary, soldier, and politician, who had a major role in the Irish War for Independence. With Griffith he participated in the negotiations that led to the 1921 Treaty. Collins became the Chairman of the Provisional Government of the Irish Free State on 16 January 1922. He was Commander of the National Army in July until his death at Beal na Blath in west Cork on 22 August.

Registered cover (above) and postcard (right) were prepared by Brian Callan and cancelled at Crookstown on 22 Aug 2022 > 100th Anniv of Collins assassination. Crookstown is the closest Post office to Beal na Blath.

A future issue of The Revealer will explore the Centenary of Irish History from September 1922 to April 1923

An Irish Connection: Commodore John Barry (1745 – 1803)

John B. Sharkey

Bill O'Connor's recent article on the Irish connection with U. S. Naval Cancellations (Autumn 2022 Revealer) brings to mind another connection between Ireland and the United States, that of John Barry, an Irish-American officer in the Continental Navy during the American Revolutionary War, and later in the United States Navy. With 2023 being the 220th anniversary of his death, perhaps now is an appropriate time to review his commemoration through philately, both in Ireland and the U.S.

Barry was born on March 25, 1745 in Tacumshane, County Wexford, Ireland to a Catholic family. When Barry's family was evicted from their home by their English landlord, they moved to Rosslare on the coast, where his uncle worked a fishing skiff. He went to sea at age fourteen; eventually settling in Pennsylvania, and became master of a merchant ship. Barry received his first captain's commission in the Continental Navy on March 14, 1776, signed by John Hancock, president of the Second Continental Congress.¹ In 1776, in the brig Lexington, he seized the English ship Edward, the first warship captured by the American Navy. In 1781, in command of the frigate Alliance, of thirty-two guns, he carried John Laurens, Envoy to France, and on the way back captured two English men-of-war but was severely wounded in the engagement. From 1782 until his death Barry superintended the progress of the US Navy. He has been called 'Father of the American Navy.'²

Commemorations for John Barry in Ireland

A stamp commemorating the unveiling of Barry's statue was issued on September 16, 1956, an occasion that received considerable publicity in the United States. The stamps, a 3d mauve and a 1s. 3d blue, show the Commodore with a sword in his right hand while his head is thrown back in a gallant gesture with cape flying. The stamps, however, were issued against the wishes of the Department of Posts and Telegraphs. The year 1956 was neither a noteworthy anniversary of Barry's birth or death. – the usual criteria commemorating significant persons in Irish history. On this date Sean T. O'Ceallaigh, the President of Ireland, unveiled a statue of Barry on Crescent Quay, Wexford Town. The Congress of the United States on March 12, 1941, in honor of the bicentenary of his birth (1745) decided to present a statue of Barry to the Irish nation. The statue was cast in bronze at Somerville, Massachusetts.³

The second time that Barry was honored was in 2003, but again there were questions as to why the stamp should be issued. Would it be for the 200th anniversary of his death? Should he be recognized as a famous American naval hero who happened to have been born in Ireland?⁴ On September 30, 2003, An Post produced four stamps honoring Irish Mariners, one of whom was John Barry, Commanding officer U.S. Navy. In addition to the stamp (Hibernian C1248) a miniature sheet was produced, showing Barry and a ship (Hibernian MS 49). The stamps were designed by Ger Gerland. The set of stamps, (Hibernian C1247-C1250) including William Brown, Robert Halpin, and

Shown (Figure 4), is a cachet commemorating the anniversary of the Birth of John Barry but I am not sure which anniversary is being commemorated. The postmark has the year 1936, so the anniversary would be 191 years. The town on the postmark is Ros Mhic Treon (Ross McTreaon). I don't think that this went through the mail as the ½ d stamp did not sufficiently pay the rate to the U.S.

Commemorations for John Barry in the United States

On December 15, 1936, the United States Post Office Department (now the USPS) honoring the two greatest American naval heroes of the Revolutionary War, John Barry and John Paul Jones. Jones is also credited with being the “Father of the American Navy”. Shown in Figures 7 and 8 are two first day covers for this stamp.

Figures 7 and 8. Two first day covers commemorating famous Navy officers.

Figure 9. shows a cover commemorating the 150th anniversary of the death of John Barry. The cachet was designed by Ludwig W. Staehle, who was born in Wurttemberg, Germany. The cover was cancelled on September 13, 1953 in Barry, IL (no relation with John Barry). The 3-cent stamp shows the USS Constitution, also known as Old Ironsides, commemorating the 150th anniversary of its launching in 1797. This cover has special significance for the ÉPA as it was part of the series of covers “Irish Cachet Covers” produced by charter member John J. Clark (member #39), who was our Secretary, Publicity Director and Revealer back Issues Manager.⁵ The ÉPA’s service award is named in his honor.

The Irish War Veterans honored John Barry each year with a memorial ceremony in Washington, D.C. Shown in Figure 10 is a cover honoring Barry on St. Patrick's Day in 1977. Barry is shown on the 1-cent stamp and Washington on the US Bicentennial 13-cent stamp. The insert is signed by Ed Dolan, National Commander of the Veterans.

As mentioned, Barry captured two British Men-of-War ships on his return from France. This event, which took place on May 29, 1781, was commemorated exactly two hundred years later on this Artcraft cover (Figure 11). The stamps, cancelled on May 29, 1981, show the 1-cent John Barry and John Paul Jones stamp, the 2-cent Speaker's Stand stamp proclaiming the right of Americans to speak out, and the 15-cent John Paul Jones stamp. It was commissioned for the Westport Collectors Society.

As I end this review of the commemoration of John Barry, one would think that there should have been a stamp issued in the U.S. on the 200th anniversary of his death in 2003. There was much interest in having such a stamp. The Commodore Barry Club of Brooklyn, headed by Mary Nolan, had launched an international effort to have such a stamp. A joint-issue by the U.S. and Ireland was also proposed by the Club's counsel. Mary Nolan stated "A stamp honoring John Barry at this time will underscore his tremendous contribution to the birth of America as well as recognize the contribution the Irish have made to the growth and security of the nation."⁶ Unfortunately, the U.S. did not produce a stamp commemorating Barry in 2003.

I conclude with a modern photo postcard of Commodore John Barry in Wexford shown in Figure 12. I must credit our departed friend and past ÉPA president Joe Foley for many of the covers shown in this article. I purchased a collection that once belonged to Joe at Milcopex 2017, where the ÉPA was having its AGM. The binder included numerous covers from shows of the Dublin Stamp Society, the Irish Philatelic Circle and other shows that Joe attended in the 1960s and 1970s, both in the U.S. and Europe. There were also covers from maiden ship voyages between Ireland and England. Finally, there are the covers related to John Barry, which are the subject of this article. A great memory of a great philatelist and mentor.

Echo for 2 Articles in The Revealer Vol. 72 No. 4, Winter 2022-23

Iben Olsen

I have just received The Revealer Winter 2022-23 via mail. I have read with interest the two articles by Bill O'Connor - Irish Censor Mail of World War II - Part 1 - and Voter Registration, Political Smear Campaigns, Disputed Elections, Government Control of the Media by Robert Benninghoff.

I have a question regarding Bill's article and an addition to Robert's, if it is of interest.

1) In my collection I have a First Day Cover 2d. U. S. Constitution - March 1, 1939 – send locally from PORT LAIRGE (Waterford) to Waterford. The cover has a British censor label – OPENED BY EXAMINER 7134 – P. C. 90 and crowns in top. I think it is very early used in Ireland? And wonder why it is a British censor label? Would Bill have the answer?

2) I also found a 1941 licence, which may be related to Roberts article?

Letter to The Author:

The Postal History behind the folded letter from the British Consulate in New Orleans to a wife in Dublin looking for the status of her husband in the summer of 1849. The cover was shown in Dec 2022 Revealer.

Many thanks to David MacDonnell, Mark Schwartz and Patricia Walker for their comments on the postage rates and transit marks shown on this folded letter. The following information is provided by the panel above

The Letter left New Orleans 17 July 1849. Sent Unpaid (no paid markings). Faint 24 (cents) in top right corner was the correct rate under the 1848 USA / United Kingdom Treaty. 24 cents = 1 shilling.

Patricia indicates that the cover was sent to New York and put on the British Steamship “Caledonia” which sailed for Liverpool on August 1 and arrived in Liverpool on 14 Aug. Indicated by the black America Liverpool handstamp. The big 5 (in circle) Handstamp was applied in New York and indicates that the US post office was owed 5 cents for transit from New Orleans to New York. The 5 (in circle) was the New York City debit marking used in the city exchange office.

David states that the cover was mis-sent to Boston where it was put on the British Cunard Steamer “Caledonian” sailing for Liverpool on 1 Aug 1849. David believes that the cover missed the Steamer Niagara (sailing on July 25 from New York) because the cover was in Boston. The cover arrived in Liverpool on 14 August.

Mark also states that the Caledonian left Boston on 1 August arriving in Liverpool on 14 August. Perhaps the cover arrived in New York after the sailing of the Steamer Niagara. The big 5 handstamp was applied, but a clerk noting that it was diplomatic mail (with some urgency) sent it on to Boston to sail with the Caledonia.

The cover was marked with 1-shilling postage due (Black vertical line in the center) and was mis-sorted into a mailbag for Belfast, arriving the morning of 15 August (Blue date stamp and M). The error was discovered and Mis-sent to Belfast red Handstamp applied. The cover finally arrived in Dublin on 16 August 1849. The 1 shilling in postage equated to 5 cents (2 1/2d) for the USA and 19 cents (9 1/2d) for Cunard line and United Kingdom internal postage from Liverpool to Dublin.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bayley had to pay a shilling postage in order to find out that her husband was a reprobate and was missing somewhere in the USA.

The Clones Affray 11 February 1922 -- Defending the Irish Free State or Botched Bank Robbery ?

Clones is in the northeast corner of County Monaghan only a few kms from Fermanagh (N. Ireland)

The IRA attacked several RUC members waiting for a train at the Clones railway station during the night of 11 Feb. The local people thought that the RUC were invading the town. OR was it a botched bank robbery by the RUC. Clones had three banks and the Post Office Savings bank in February 1922, including the Bank of Ireland and Ulster Bank (Figures 1 and 2). The B-special division of the Ulster Constabulary were known as enforcers for various Ulster mob syndicates and the money in the banks was no longer British money but Irish Free State money. Were the banks used by various nefarious organizations in Northern Ireland ? The fact that the IRA were armed with a Thompson Sub machine gun (a rare armament in Ireland at that time) adds further speculation that they were defending the banks against attacks from Northern Ireland. Four B- Special members and the commanding IRA (Matt Fitzpatrick) officer were killed and the incident resulted a special inquiry demanded by Winston Churchill (Figure 3)

There were 4 Banks in Clones in 1922. By 2022 all branches were closed & the nearest bank is 20 km in Monaghan.

The Period of Transition 1922 to 1925

On 6th December 1921 a treaty was signed with Great Britain whereby Ireland was partitioned. Six of Ireland's 32 Counties elected to remain as part of the United Kingdom, as Northern Ireland, with the remaining 26 counties forming a Provisional Government of the Irish Free State. Under the terms of the treaty, and subject to various caveats, the Free State would become fully independent on year later.

The Irish Post Office had been under the direct control of the British authorities but after partition, only Northern Ireland was directly administered by Great Britain. The Free State was in no position to take over all of its functions immediately, and in order that a smooth transfer of administration could take place, it was agreed that the British Post Office would continue to have responsibility for all the Irish Posts up to 31 March 1922.

Due to a variety of circumstances, not the least of which was a Civil War, essentially this transition took over three years, rather than the three months originally foreseen.

What is This?

Ray Murphy

An Irish forerunner, or at least was initially thought to be one, was purchased in Paris in 1984 or 1985 from one of the dealers at the outdoor stamp market. On bringing it home, and having access to my books, I realized that it wasn't as initially thought, but couldn't find anyone to identify it. Thus, it has resided in my "darned-if-I-know" file since (Figure 1).

What it seems to be is a copy of the 1906-1916 Sinn Finn stamp printed with a second frame and perforated. The outer frame is 26x32mm, and perforated Imperf x 14.25 x 14 x 14.25. The inner label measures 23x28.5 mm and is imperforate x 9.25 x 9.25. This is different from one of the known Sinn Finn labels (Figure 2) which is 20 x 23 mm and perforated 11.25. Neither label is watermarked.

The design on the known label is lithographed, as is the copy; however, the copy is a much lower resolution. Hibernian lists the original in three varieties of two colors: green and black, light blue and green, and dark blue and black. My original is dark blue and black (Figure 2). The copy is a single color, dark green, giving a lighter effect by having smaller and fewer color dots. The size of the copy is about 130% of the original. This is supported by differences in the perforation sizes. Close examination of the label details supports the magnification option since many of the minor details, such as the shapes of the shamrock leaves seem to match those seen on the original.

What puzzles me is WHY? Sinn Finn labels are not rare. Why would someone go to the effort and expense to create the artwork for the outer frame and magnify the result 130%?

It might be understandable if they had just copied a label in a single color, or even if they had just enlarged it? Why all the added work?

A possible clue is a lightly penciled note on the gum that reads "Irish Bazaar, N.Y. Oct. 1916." Irish-Americans were quite upset with the murders of the Easter Week Uprising participants by the British Army. This was at a time when British were trying to convince Americans that it was in our interest to bail them out after the Y[ipes Debacle by sending troops, which we did in 1917. Was the label part of a fundraiser by Sinn Finn in 1916? A feasible reason for their appearance in France could they were carried by an Irish-American soldier (or a recent immigrant who joined the US Army) as part of the New York 69th Division who planned to use to communicate with Sinn Finn members still in Ireland? The original labels were used for Sinn Finn members to mark their mail to other members. This practice was halted after the 1916 Insurrection since it brought unwanted attention by British authorities.

Barney C. Clancy

Bernard Columbus Clancy AKA BARNEY, Age 83, born in the Bronx, New York on 7/19/1939 passed into the next life on 2/20/2023 at Hospice Care, Pinellas Park, Florida surrounded by his loved ones.

Barney attended SS Peter & Paul Elementary School 1945-1953 and then attended Cardinal Hayes High School 1953-1958 both located in the South Bronx, New York. After HS, Barney enlisted in the N.Y. National Guard as he also entered the work force in Manhattan with J. Walter Thompson, an Advertising Agency. After 2 years he realized he needed to go to college so he enrolled in the business school at Manhattan College, initially at night, but eventually switched to days. He obtained a BBA degree with a major in Marketing and he then went to work for Ruben H Donnelly as a management analyst. Barney served for 7+ years in 102ND Medical Battalion, 42nd Division, NY National Guard.

The corporate world was seeing the possibilities offered by a budding computer industry in the early 60's. Ruben H Donnelly selected Barney to attend the prestigious RCA Institute in New York City and trained him to be a programmer. Barney continued to work for Ruben H Donnelly after he became a certified programmer but after a couple of years, the grass was greener elsewhere.

He moved on to TWA Airlines in NJ and was part of a team building the first computerized Airline Reservation System. The perks were fantastic. He was provided with a Management Pass that allowed him to travel free in economy anywhere in the world and pay a ridiculous small fee to travel First Class. He was gone almost every Friday afternoon out of JFK and he would get home for Sunday dinner in the Bronx at 5:00 PM. Can you believe, he tired of this travel! Been there, done that etc.

After a few years, in late 1967 early 1968 he became adventurous and engineered employment as a contractor with Western Electric. They assigned him to facilitate a US Government Contract on a computerized military communications switch system in Saigon, Viet Nam and its surrounding areas. He arrived in Saigon on January 29, 1968 a day ahead of the beginning of the famous TET Offensive. Needless to say, he led an interesting life for the next 14 months. How would you like to be an unarmed American Civilian in Saigon during this period of time. It was reported that he could sleep through a battle "bombs bursting in air" snoring all the way.

Western Electric decided to transfer Barney back to the USA, short of the time needed to qualify for Federal Income Tax Exclusion. As a result, he decided to resign from Western Electric and do a "WALKABOUT" throughout the Far East until he qualified for the Income Tax exclusions.

When he returned to the USA he went to Washington, DC and never returned to New York. He worked for a few computer programming companies in Washington DC before ending up working for The International Brotherhood of Teamsters from which he later retired.

While in Washington DC and Arlington/Alexandria Virginia, Barney became a leading member of the DC Friends Of Ireland and The Saint Brendans Committee and was active in everything IRISH. He was part owner of two Irish Bars, The Big Apple and The Irish Connection both in Washington, DC. He married and subsequently divorced. As noted above he retired from the Teamsters and "temporarily" moved to Seminole Florida. He only returned to sell his Condo in Virginia and move permanently to Florida several months later.

Barney created a whole new life for himself in Florida. His second homes were The American Legion and the VFW. He became very active as a member serving as officers in both. Practically from birth he was a "Collector of Stamps" as a hobby. After retirement he seriously engaged in Philately specializing in IRISH STAMPS. He traded, bought and sold such stamps internationally. He traveled to Ireland and Europe many times. He established deep and lasting relationships with fellow stamp collectors in the USA and other parts of the world. He was the Treasurer of the EIRE PHILATELIC ASSOCIATION (EPA) in the USA for two plus decades. He has been declared an Honorary Member of the Dublin Philately Association. The EPA has recently nominated Barney to the Federation of Philatelic Societies of Ireland to be honored as a Distinguished Philatelist of Ireland. It is the highest award given in Irish Philately. He is only the third recipient from the United States to be so honored.

Florida has been very good for Barney he fell in love and married Maria Clancy, a Scottish Lass who has taken great care of him and kept him on the straight and narrow.

Barney is predeceased by his older brother John (Jackie) Clancy, his parents Bernard and Helen Flanagan Clancy, both born in Co Leitrim, Ireland, and Donna his former spouse. Survivors include his current spouse of 9 years Maria Clancy, his younger sister Helen Clancy-Manning (Jim), his nephews James (Jen), Michael (Charlene), Kenneth (Mary) Manning and niece Jeanne (Scott) Webster and eleven grandnieces and grandnephews: Brittany, Lindsay, Brett, Kenny Jr (Eliza), Keegan, Joey, Mackenzie, Jimmy and Cullen Manning and Lauren and Ben Webster and numerous Irish cousins in the USA and Ireland.

Barney will be cremated. A funeral Mass will be celebrated on Saturday at 11:00 AM, March 25, 2023 at Blessed Sacrament Roman Catholic Church, 11565 66th Avenue North, Seminole, FL 33772. A Celebration of Life will also be held the next day on Sunday at 1 PM March 26, 2023 at the American Legion Post 252, 11433 Park Blvd, Seminole, FL 33772. Planning is afoot to live stream the funeral Mass from Blessed Sacrament Church on the 25th of March at 11:00 AM.

Anyone wishing to share their memory of Barney can do so by sending an email to his sister Helen Clancy – Manning at HMMJMM@aol.com and the memory will be posted (Added) to this obituary. Donations, in lieu of flowers, can be made to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital

Barney Clancy – A Remembrance February 2023 By John B Sharkey

I first met Barney at a meeting of the Éire Philatelic Association (ÉPA) at a stamp show in Atlantic City in 2002; the first of many stamp shows that I would attend with Barney. Although I was a member of the ÉPA since 1980, I was not an active member. But at that show I met people like Joe Foley, Dave Brennan, and Barney Clancy. It was because of their friendship, their knowledge of Ireland and Irish philately and their wonderful sense of humor that I became more active with the association.

Barney was one of the most knowledgeable people that I have ever met in the area of Irish philately. He was close to the vest about his collections and you had to work a bit to get information. I knew that he collected Irish postage stamps in booklets, but I did not know that he had one of the best collections in the world. When I asked him, he took the time to explain the many variations of Irish booklets. He was very generous with his knowledge of Irish philately. When I was looking for a speaker for our show in Boxborough MA in 2011, Dave Brennan mentioned that Barney had a vast collection of political and propaganda labels of Ireland. Barney did not like public speaking, but when I asked him to be our speaker, he accepted. He gave a wonderful talk on an area that I knew little about. His exhibit on that topic won an award at the show.

Barney was Treasurer of the ÉPA for twenty-three years. His contributions to the ÉPA and to Irish philately in general are too numerous to mention in this brief remembrance. In 2022, the ÉPA nominated him for the Role of Distinguished Philatelists of Ireland, the highest award given in the area of Irish philately. Sponsored by the Federation of Philatelic Societies of Ireland, Barney was honored with this distinction; only the third time since 1980 that it has been awarded to a philatelist from the United States.

A dear friend and colleague, Barney will be greatly missed.

Barney Clancy – A Remembrance February 2023 By Robert Benninghoff

Jean and I have known Barney for over 40 years. He has been a major part of our family for four decades. Barney attended two of my daughters weddings and missed the 3rd wedding because of Covid. Barney is also a grand mentor and friend when it comes to Irish Philately and I always looked forward to meeting him at various shows around the USA and Ireland. I was most honored to nominate Barney to sign the Roll of Distinguished Philatelists of Ireland and very happy that I could be present when he signed the book in January of this year.

Barney is most proud of his wife Maria and their extended family and they were very much looking forward to several international trips including Ireland and Scotland. Barney is, and always will be, a scholar and a gentlemen as well as a pillar of Irish Philately. We will always remember Barney with his Dapper Hat and Flower and Smile and unique sense of Irish wit and humor.

Barney Clancy– A Remembrance February 2023 By Dave Brennan

Barney has been like a brother to me. I loved every minute that we spent together. We both loved stamp collecting and having a pint together. We first met at a stamp show in New York City in 1983. Both of us were collectors of Irish stamps and Irish postal history. I joined the Eire Philatelic Association at Barney's suggestion and the rest is history. We hit it off on my first trip across the pond in 1983 at the National Stamp Show (STAMPA) which is held yearly in Dublin. We had a few pints and he heard that I bunked with another mutual friend Joe Foley from New Jersey and asked if we wanted company to help defray the costs of lodging in the B and Bs. We got along good and the three of us share lodging and a car which we always took a side trip after the show to different parts of Ireland. At first it was a little dicey traveling to the North of Ireland but we managed, my cousin lived in Belfast. Barney was a great storyteller and would have you in stitches. We traveled through all 32 counties and of course had to go through Leitrim. We lost our traveling companion Joe Foley in 2006 who died of cancer and after that Barney and I really bonded realizing how fragile life can be. We went to at least two stamp exhibitions every year up to Covid when stamp events were cancelled. The last time we shared a room was in the Hyatt in Sarasota in February, 2019. We shared many good times together and he was there for me when I lost my son and later my wife. I will truly miss him, a part of me is going with him. I never met Maria but felt I knew her almost as Barney did because he always talked about her when we would have a drop of the crater at the end of the day.

Remembered by Heinz-Jurgen Kumpf

With heavy heart and deep sadness that I inform you of the death of our loyal FAI-member Bernard Columbus Clancy, well known as “Barney”, who passed away on February 20, 2023 at the age of 83 in Pinellas Park, Florida. Barney has been a member of FAI since the early 1990's. He was honoured for his merits to the Irish Philately at our 2011 Annual General Meeting with the FAI Award, the highest award FAI has to offer.

Anyone who knew Barney will remember his friendly face with a smile who put everyone around him at ease and in an upbeat mood.

How often have we been at STAMPA together and were able to “fortify” ourselves with a pint or two of Guinness during our talks in a nearby pub? I like to remember when he took his little stockbook out of his coat there and showed us proudly his philatelic treasures. Barney had plenty of those, not just the rare first Irish stamp booklets, but also the early Fenian labels, just to name a small part of his scarce material from his collection, which he often carried with him. I myself valued him with his extensive philatelic knowledge, and he was a big help to me when I was writing my FAI book about the Irish propaganda labels. Practically from birth he was a “Collector of Stamps”. After his retirement Barney became heavily involved in Irish philately. This fact is not really surprising as his family ancestry came from County Leitrim, Ireland.

We will always remember Barney as one of the most prominent philatelists on Irish Postal History and as a great cosmopolitan. He will be greatly missed.

RIP Barney - Your friends and philatelic companions from FAI.
