Eire Philatelic Association Business

Message from the EPA President

Since my last President's message, we have lost two of our outstanding members, Barney Clancy and Barry Cousins. A more detailed article on Barry can be found in this issue. With Barney's passing there was a vacancy on the Board and I have appointed Michael O'Reilly to fill that slot so we will have a full Board to conduct the Association's business. Michael is preparing his first auction and will be quite a bit less from what Bob Kemper has done in the past. I anticipate that we will be seeing quite a bit of Barney Clancy's material in future auctions. His better material has been sent to David Feldman in Switzerland for his June auction. A notice will be sent out with more details later in May.

I can't thank Bob Kemper enough for all he has done during his time as our auction manager. Michael said the transition went smoothly and will be using the same excel program for the future auctions.

We had planned to have our next AGM at NOJEX in Secaucus NJ but that show has been moved to another location not, yet finalized, and I believe it will be downsized. I am proposing to the Board that we hold our Board and general meeting sometime in September via Zoom. The reason for my recommendation is that we are only getting a few of the Board members to attend. The Zoom meetings generate far more members attending and will save the EPA the stipends that we give to the officers to defray the cost of attending. I think a full Board participating on EPA business makes for a healthier Association. Hopefully, we will see more local chapter meetings where and when a major show is in your area. Contact John Sharkey if you need assistance in organizing a Chapter not now in existence. Enjoy the summer and look for some treasures while on vacation to fill in those empty spaces in your collection.

Treasurer's Report

Hello and welcome to Summer 2023

Jean and I wish everyone a Grand and Bodacious summer.

The fiscal year for the EPA ends on August 31 2023 and the full Treasurers Report will be given in the Autumn Revealer.

Please note and remember that we will be mailing the 2024 dues envelopes to members in late July and early August. We appreciate the prompt payment that we receive from many members and encourage everyone to pay their dues by the end of August. We still have a few members who have not paid for 2023. These members will be dropped after this summer issue. The EPA Dues account for about 30% of our income – but are critical for cash flow to pay for the Autumn Revealer. The dues for 2024 will be the same as 2023.

The EPA had a net loss of $13,700 in fiscal year 2023, because of the payments to WordPress to upgrade the EPA web site. The upgrade was necessary to allow members to receive the electronic copy of the Revealer as well as inclusion of additional EPA information such as members stamp exhibits.

However, after accounting for the payments to Wordpress the EPA is running at about breakeven. This was possible because of the Great Efforts by our auction manager, Bob Kemper, and EPA members bidding on auction lots. We have received almost $4000 in auction contributions as of May 1 2023 with another auction just closing. Bob retired as auction manager after the Spring Revealer, and we look forward to working with our new manager Michael O'Reilly whose first auction is in this summer issue – Hence Bid early and often and again. The EPA auction contributions make up almost 50% of our income.

We appreciate those members that include an extra donation to the EPA with their dues. We received over $1700 in donations this fiscal year including two large donations from two very generous members. The donations are very much appreciated and help with the running of the association. I will mail everyone who sends a contribution a souvenir card from STAMPA 2023 (Irish National Stamp Show) in October.

Many Thanks to Richard Kelly for his work Advertising Manager for the Revealer. Richards efforts added almost $300 to the EPA income.

The Revealer cost of printing packaging and mailing is about $1600 per issue, which is slightly less than last year because of the reduced mailings because more members are electing to go electronic only for their copies. However, we anticipate an increase for fiscal year 2024 due to the twice a year increase in postage. We had about $1400 in additional expenses during the past 9 months which include normal operating expenses by our Secretary John Sharkey, the annual cost of the EPA Post Office Box, the annual website maintenance fee and the cost of the Annual General meeting last October.

Best Wishes to all

Robert and Jean

New EPA Auction Manager - Michael O'Reilly

I am delighted to be taking on the role of your EPA Auction Manager starting with the Summer 2023 auction (#212). I would like to thank Bob Kemper for acting as a mentor for the past number of months and providing guidance and advice on the auction manager's responsibilities. I would hope to emulate the professional and efficient way he has managed the auction process for the past nine years or so.

Some background on myself: I grew up in the small town of Virginia, Co. Cavan, Ireland which is located approximately fifty miles northwest of Dublin. After completing high school, I attended Trinity College, Dublin completing undergraduate and postgraduate degrees in Engineering and Materials science. I then joined a major US Multinational Aerospace company that had a facility in Waterford. Waterford, in the southeast of Ireland, (located approximately one hundred miles south of Dublin.) After holding various positions over ten years at the Waterford location, I transferred in 1997 to the company's corporate Aerospace headquarters in Phoenix, Arizona. I retired approximately 18 months ago after a thirty-five-year career with the company in the US and Ireland in various locations & leadership roles. I now have the opportunity to give back to philately through volunteering as the auction manager for the EPA.

I have been a lifelong collector of Irish stamps and continued my interest when I moved permanently from Ireland to the US in the late 1990s. I also enjoy (among other things) travel, history, and genealogy research and attempt to align these interests with stamp collecting, hence my interest in postal history. I recall that the first FDC I ordered on subscription from the Irish postal service (then the Dept. of Posts and Telegraphs) was the 1981 Science and Technology issue. I fondly remember when in college in Dublin, perusing the stamp stores of Michael Giffney along the quays, Gwyn Bennett's store close to what was then the Central Bank of Ireland, and the Stamp Shop in George's Street Arcade. Sadly, stamp dealer shopfront stores are in most cases a distant memory.

My philately interests outside of Irish material include collecting stamps engraved by the Polish-born Czeslaw Slania – in many cases works of art in miniature. I am also interested in collecting representative stamps from “dead countries”.

Consignment or Donation of salable Irish material is a key element of making the EPA Auctions successful. The EPA Auctions would not be possible without these Consignments and/or Donations. I would therefore encourage you to consider consigning your duplicate or unwanted material for sale at the EPA auctions. Further information on the auction process may be found on the EPA website. Alternatively, you may contact me directly (email preferred) if you have any questions. My contact details may be found on the inside cover of the Revealer.

I look forward to serving as your auction manager.

Role of Distinguished Philatelists of Ireland

It is with great pleasure to announce Robert Benninghoff has been invited to sign the Roll of Distinguished Philatelists of Ireland. The nomination was made by the Board of the Éire Philatelic Association and accepted by the Federation of Philatelic Societies of Ireland on April 5, 2023. The signing will be held at the Stampa Awards Dinner on October 7, 2023.

Bob's contributions to the ÉPA, and to Irish philately, in general were recognized last year when he was awarded the ÉPA's Thomas Edwin Field Award, which is presented "to any person who has made an outstanding contribution to the area of Irish philately." Bob has made numerous contributions to Irish philately through his award-winning philatelic exhibits, his historical articles in The Revealer and Gibbons Stamp Monthly, and his informative and educational presentations at stamp shows.

His most recent award at the National level was his exhibit on the "Development and Use of the 2d Map Stamp of Ireland" for which he received a Large Gold and Single Frame Grand at the San Diego Stamp Show 2023. On the International level, his exhibit "Irish Coil Stamps 1922 to 1940 won the David Feldman Trophy and International Gold at New York International 2016 and PRAGA 2018.

Bob has done extensive research on the 1916 Easter Rising, the 1919-1921 Irish War of Independence, and the 1922-1923 Irish Civil War. His postal history exhibits on these topics explain a detailed history of these events. His social, economic, and political philatelic material often contain one-of-a-kind items. Bob has even made family vacations to Portugal and Stockholm into two multi-frame exhibits.

A long-time member of the ÉPA, Bob has been an active member of our Association and has served as our Treasurer since 2018 (with great assistance from his wife Jean). The ÉPA is proud that Bob has been recognized with this high honor.

Dear Bob,

I am pleased to inform you that at an Executive Meeting of the Federation held tonight, your nomination from the Éire Philatelic Association to sign the Roll of Distinguished Philatelists of Ireland was approved. You are a most worthy recipient of this honour.

I should be obliged if you would confirm to me at brian.warren2@upcmail.ie that you agree to sign the Roll.

The signing will be held at the Stamp Awards Dinner in Wynns Hotel on 7th October next during Stamp 2023. The Federation will pay for your dinner ticket (plus 1).

Yours sincerely,

Brian Warren - President

Barry Sidney Brian Cousins

A Tribute to a Great Philatelist, prolific author, and very good friend

I started this issue with a commemoration of the Life of Barney Clancy and I would like to finish with a Tribute to my good friend and mentor Barry Cousins. Barry is married to Noel and his family embraces three adult Children, Lucinda, Stuart and Grace. Lucinda recently upgraded the IPC web site.

I have known Barry for almost 20 years and we have had weekly Chatabouts for the past 9 months. I always look forward to meeting him and Noel at various STAMPA Shows and Eire Philatelic Association general meetings, which is quite an accomplishment, considering that they live in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

Barry's expertise in many areas of Irish Philately is well known and he is most generous with his time when it comes to assisting fellow philatelists with their exhibits, articles and books.

Barry has formed several specialized Irish Philatelic Collections, housed in 65 volumes which includes his research papers and notes that he used for his numerous compendiums (studies) shown on the following page. His research into the development and production of the first Irish designed definitive stamps was invaluable to me when preparing my new single frame exhibit on the 2d definitive Map Stamp of Ireland.

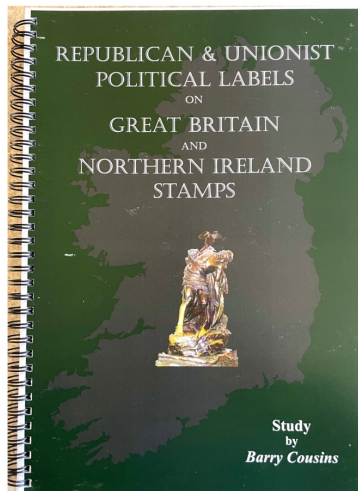

Barry's philatelic collection includes his extensive research into Great Britain stamps overprinted for use in Ireland - including errors and varieties; Essays of Ireland; the production of Irish Definitive Stamps from the 1968 to 2004 including notes on plate blocks and booklets; Irish Commemorative Stamps as well as his insights into the realms of Republican and Unionist Political Labels, overprinted on stamps of GB and Northern Ireland.

Barry's research endeavours have taken him into the archives of the British Postal Museum, Irish Security Stamp Printing Ltd. and An Post to find little nuggets of information that have provided extensive details (sometimes politically sensitive) on various aspects of Irish stamp production since 1922. MOST Important, Barry has generously donated these publications to the IPC website, the American Philatelic Society Research Library and the Royal Philatelic Society London. His most recent compendium "Overprinted Stamps of Ireland 1922-1935, 2022 Edition" has been entered in the Literature competition at the Essen (Germany) International Stamp Expo this May.

Barry's compendiums have won several gold medals at STAMPA and other International Stamp Exhibitions and he has written many articles for Irish Philately, The Revealer, Gibbons Stamp Monthly etc. He is a past President of the Irish Philatelic Circle and Barry is one most Bodacious Good Friend.

Barry Cousins and his wife Noel celebrating his recent 81st Birthday in Malaysia

Two of Barry's Nine Compendiums on various aspects of Irish Philately

Barry was recently Nominated by the Eire Philatelic Association to sign the Roll of Distinguished Philatelists of Ireland. Barry signed the Roll in April

Barry was able to review this article before he passed away on April 18 2023

The following is a list of Barry Cousins Compendiums or Studies of various aspects of Irish Philately. Through Barry's generosity, these Publications are available on the Irish Philatelic Circle web site, at the American Philatelic Society Research Library and at the Royal Philatelic Society London

The author has to date compiled and published nine reference books in connection Irish Philately, see listings.

In the case of books 1, 2, 3, 4 updated editions have been reprinted, taking into account updates, corrections and additions.

In 2002 the author compiled his first book (1 & 1A) for his own use. The reason for this being, that as a collector it was considered that publications at the time, were lacking in detail and information. This was important in order to decide if Irish stamps being advertised or auctioned, were on the author's 'wants list'. This the 2022 edition, marks the seventh edition of this particular book, which concentrates on stamps of the 'transitional period'.

BOOK	PUBLICATIONS on IRISH PHILATELY AUTHORED by Barry Cousins	EDITION		PAGES
		FIRST	UPDATE
1	Overprinted Stamps of Ireland 1922 - 1935	2002	2022	245
1A	Valuation Guide	2002	2022	31
2	Irish Free State Plates, Controls & Overprint Settings	2015	2018	319
3	Republican & Unionist Political Labels on GB & NI Stamps	2013	2018	77
4	Ireland's Permanent Definitive Stamps & Essays 1922 - 1937	2014	2018	123
5	Commemorative Stamps of Ireland 1929 - 2001	2018	-	227
6	'PENCF' Error on Overprinted Stamps of Ireland	2018	-	16
7	Definitive Stamps of Ireland 'Birds' 1997 - 2004	2019	-	102
8	High Value 'Seahorse' Stamps Overprinted for use in Ireland 1922-1935	2021	-	20
9	Ireland Overprint Proofs & Trial Printings	2022	-	66

Following book 1, books 2, 6, 8 & 9 have been compiled and published, these publications examine and set out in more detail specialist aspects related to Irish philately of the 'transitional period'.

Books 3, 4, 5, 7 reflect the development and expansion of the author's collecting interests and the rationale for their compilation remains, as per the first book.

Awards

Over the years books 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 9 have been entered in the Irish National Stamp Exhibition (STAMPA), achieving awards ranging from Silver to Gold. On the International arena entries of books 1, 2, 4, 7 have gained Large Silver to Large Vermeil awards at Thailand 2013, London 2015 & 2020 and New York 2016.

Access to Books

With the advent of technology and file transfer, all books listed are now available on the web site of the Irish Philatelic Circle (IPC), at no cost to the Membership.

On application the author will consider 'bona fide' requests, beyond the IPC for files to be transmitted, using the services of 'We Transfer'.

As written on the lead page

'Publication for Research, Reference & Feedback by Fellow Philatelists'

And more importantly for the future well being of Irish Philately.

Bernard Columbus Clancy > July 1939 to February 2023

A fond remembrance by his Friends

We were most sad to hear of the recent passing of our good friend and philatelic companion - Barney Clancy at age 83.

I was honored to be with him in Florida in late January when he signed the Roll of Distinguished Philatelists of Ireland and again to be part of his Life Celebration on 26 March at the Foreign Legion Post in Seminole Florida where he was given a 21 Gun Volley Salute.

I have known Barney for almost 40 years ever since we “banged heads” at the 1985 Feldman Auction in New York. He has been a major part of our family for four decades and he attended 2 of our daughters’ weddings missing the third only because of Covid. Jean and I told our future Son in Laws that they had to pass the Barney – Dave Brennan approval before they could marry our girls and all three received their Barney-Dave Blessings.

Barney was a frequent visitor to STAMPA with his friends, Dave Brennan and Joe Foley who helped to plant the Irish-American Flag at the various events. He was a longtime member of the IPC and FAI as well as Treasurer of the EPA for 23 years. He was a Gold (now Large Gold) medal winner for his exhibits on Irish Postal Stationary, Irish Political Labels and Irish Booklets. Barney has written numerous articles for the Revealer, Irish Philately and Die Harfe over the past 30 years. He was a mentor and contributor to several books on Political Labels and Postal Stationary.

Jean and I will miss visiting with him and wife Maria during our travels to Florida. BUT ! We will remember Barney for his kind words, Irish Wit gained from his Irish parents and his Smile.

Below are some thoughts from his other friends

From Dave Brennan President of the Eire Philatelic Association (EPA)

Barney was like a Bother to me and we both loved stamp collecting and having a Pint at the various shows around the USA and STAMPA. We first met in 1983 at the New York City Spring Show. I joined the EPA at Barneys suggestion and became a 40 year collector of Irish stamps material. We travelled together to our first STAMPA that year and many more STAMPAs followed. With our companion Joe Foley, we managed to travel to all 32 Irish Counties, always stopping in his parents home county of Leitrim and staying with his cousins.

Even during the “dicey” travel times of the 1980s and 1990s, Barney’s humor and story telling would make us welcome throughout Northern Ireland, where we still have many good friends.

I was happy that I could attend his funeral on 25 March and be part of the celebrations.

From John Sharkey, Secretary of the Eire Philatelic Association (EPA)

I first met Barney at the EPA General Meeting in 2002. I had been an inactive member since 1980, but the gang of three, Dave, Joe and Barney inspired me to become more active in the Association. Barney was one of the most knowledgeable people that I ever met in the area of Irish Philately. His contributions to our hobby are too numerous to mention in this short space but I am proud that in 2022, the EPA nominated Barney to sign the Roll of Distinguished Philatelists of Ireland in recognition of his decades of philatelic endeavors.

A 21 gun salute to Barney for his Foreign Military Service

Documenting the Irish Civil War - August to December 1922

by Robert Benninghoff

The IRA was well organized after the War of Independence (6 Dec, 1921), which allowed the IRA to capture several towns and cities in the west and south including Westport, Limerick, Cork and Waterford during the summer of 1922. Once the Fighting ended in Dublin in July, the National Government began taking back these cities, assisted by vehicles and heavy weapons donated by the British Army. Cork was captured on August 10 and Fermoy on August 11.

Liam Lynch, the IRA Chief of Staff orders his members to stop holding towns and Cities and to revert to Guerilla Warfare that had worked well against the British in 1919 to 1921. One of the first casualties of this campaign was Michael Collins who was assassinated at Beal na Blath on 22 August (Figure 1)

The Spring Revealer looked at The Irish Civil War during the summer months. This section will look at the period of September to December 1922, when the War turned particularly nasty and brutal. Collins death followed that of Arthur Griffith, President of Dail Eireann on August 11. The Death of these two men ended any effort of accommodation between the National Government and the IRA. The Dail passed a Bill on 27 September creating Special Military Courts, which allowed for Internment Without Trial and Execution for Bearing Arms against the Irish Free State. The Bill was modelled after the April Special Powers Act in Northern Ireland and passed by 48 votes to 18. By the end of 1923 it is estimated that over 13,000 IRA members and sympathizers were interned by the National Government including Eamon de Valera. Many of the IRA Leadership were killed or executed including Erskine Childers (Figures 2 and 3).

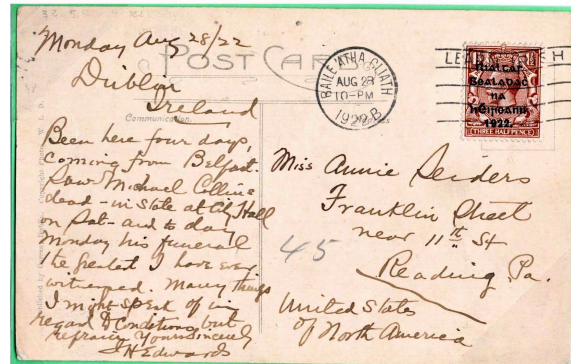

Fig.1: Postcard from an American tourist in Dublin writing home about his witnessing Michael Collins State Funeral on 28 August 1922

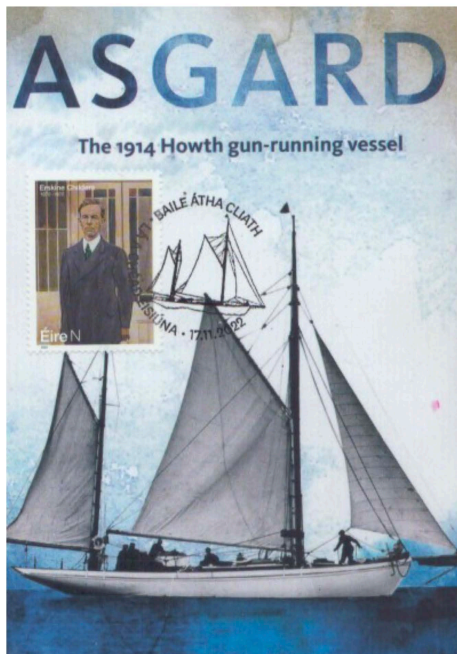

Fig. 2 Asgard postcard & First Day cancel of Centenary of Erskine Childers Death. Childers was executed by the National Government for having a gun given him by Michael Collins.

Centenary of the Death of Erskine Childers

On November 17, we issue a special stamp to mark the centenary of the death of Erskine Childers. His execution 100 years ago was a controversial incident during the Irish Civil War.

Although he acted as secretary to the Irish delegation involved in the Anglo-Irish Treaty negotiations, Childers was a prominent campaigner against the Treaty during the Civil War.

During World War I, Erskine Childers was a British intelligence officer but later joined the Irish nationalist movement. His yacht, Asgard, was used to smuggle a cargo of rifles and ammunition from Germany to the Irish Volunteers movement at Howth, County Dublin in June 1914.

Our stamp, featuring a painting titled 'The Intelligence Man', by Mick O'Dea PPRHA, touches on the path undertaken by Childers. The former intelligence worker for the British subsequently became a Sinn Féin TD and a director of propaganda during the Irish War of Independence from Britain.

The tragic death of Childers followed his arrest in County Wicklow. He was charged with possessing a pistol and sentenced to death under emergency legislation passed by Dail Eireann, which allowed for the execution of those captured bearing arms against the state during the Civil War.

Watch out for this stamp issue (in the N denomination) that recalls a tragic period in the early years of the fledgling state.

Did you know?

In an ironic twist of fate, the gun found in the possession of Erskine Childers was reputedly given to him as a present by Michael Collins, leader of the pro-Treaty side, who was himself killed in an ambush three months prior to Childers' execution.

The IRA began a series of ambushes against National Army Garrisons and Patrols with hundreds of deaths on both sides. The IRA continued to attack mail trains, post offices and mail vans during the autumn of 1922 (Figure 4). One attack resulted in the destruction of the main mail sorting office in Dublin known as the Rotunda (Figure 5) on 5 November.

The IRA started “censoring” mail that they opened looking for money, The “Censored by IRA” handstamp was a propaganda ploy by the IRA to show the world that they had access to Irish mails (Figure 6). The National Government also began censoring mail to various businesses and organizations suspected of being sympathetic to the IRA (Figure 7)

William Cosgrave became the Chairman of the Provisional Government and President of Dail Eireann in August 1922, combining the roles of Collins and Griffith. The Irish Free State came into existence on 6 December 1922 replacing the Provisional Government. The day was “Commemorated” with the issue of the first Irish designed postage stamp, 2d Green Map Stamp designed by James Ingram (Figures 8 & 9). August IP will look at the end of the Civil War in the spring of 1923 and the steps taken to begin rebuilding the Irish Free State

The 2d stamp was the first Irish designed stamp - issued 6 Dec 1922

On A Lighter Note:

Ireland had been consumed by war for much of 1914 to 1923. On January 20 1922 James Joseph Walsh was appointed Irish Postmaster General and unofficial Minister of Culture for the Provisional Government. JJ Walsh was an ardent Nationalist with a view that “a people without their own language were not a Nation”. He set out to provide Irish stamps, promote the Irish Language and sports, and other cultural activities such as Irish writing, song and dance (Figures 10 & 11)

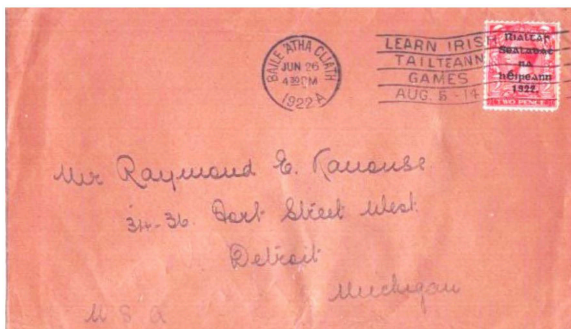

Fig. 10: Cover from Dublin to USA postmarked 26 June 1922. Two days before the start of the Civil War.

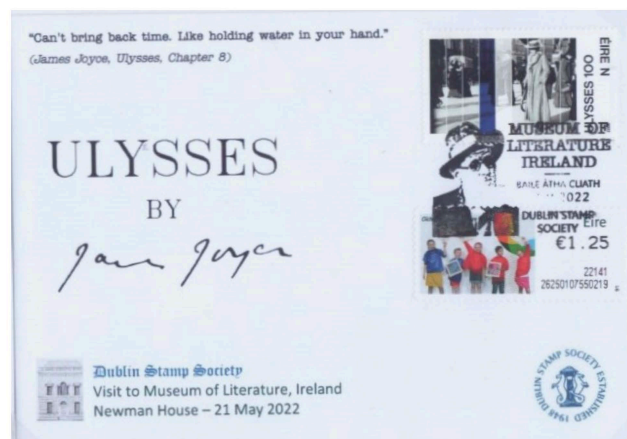

Walsh promoted the Irish Language and sports through the use of post Office cancels. Dublin was replaced by the Gaelige - Baile Atha Cliath on 13 May 1922.

The Tailteann Games were to be an Irish Sports Olympic set for August – Cancelled due to the Civil War.

Fig. 11: JJ Walsh was a strong supporter of Irish writers and poets, However, Ulysses by James Joyce, perhaps the best known Irish Novel – was so controversial in 1922 that it was banned in Ireland. It was published in France (2 Feb 1922) where Joyce was living.

Cover Prepared by Brian Warren - commemorates the 100th anniversary of Ulysses using two stamps issued by An Post in February 2022.

The cancel marks the Dublin Stamp Society's Field Trip to the Irish Literature Museum 21 May 2022.

Dear Editor,

Bill O'Connor wrote a very comprehensive and interesting article on C.F. Bourke St. Patrick Day Covers, 1935-1961 that was published in the Revealer Autumn 2022, Vol. 72 No. 3.

The article encouraged me to review my Bourke covers and I found the following.

There appears to be at least 2 other cachets used by Bourke and I have attached copies for your perusal.

His 1935 cover to the Toledo Stamp Co. has a crude outline of Ireland. Inside the envelope the usual card that was found in many of his later covers, was not present, however the glassine with shamrock has a sticker attached.

The next is a cover from 1954 with a unique cachet. It was mailed to a judge and Bourke seems to be trying to curry favour with the judge as not only did he include the usual shamrock sprig, he also placed a little St. P. blessing card in the envelope.

Bill O'Connor mentions that Bourke's war service may have disrupted his philately, and I agree. But I do have one cover from 1940 and this is the only one that I have seen from the war years in the 40s.

Obviously in those days you could send plant material from one continent to another without any concerns. It is also interesting that he had the ability to get these covers cancelled on the 17th, a national holiday, when all post offices were closed.

Please feel free to publish this additional information, which I have already shared with Bill O'Connor, if you think the membership would be interested.

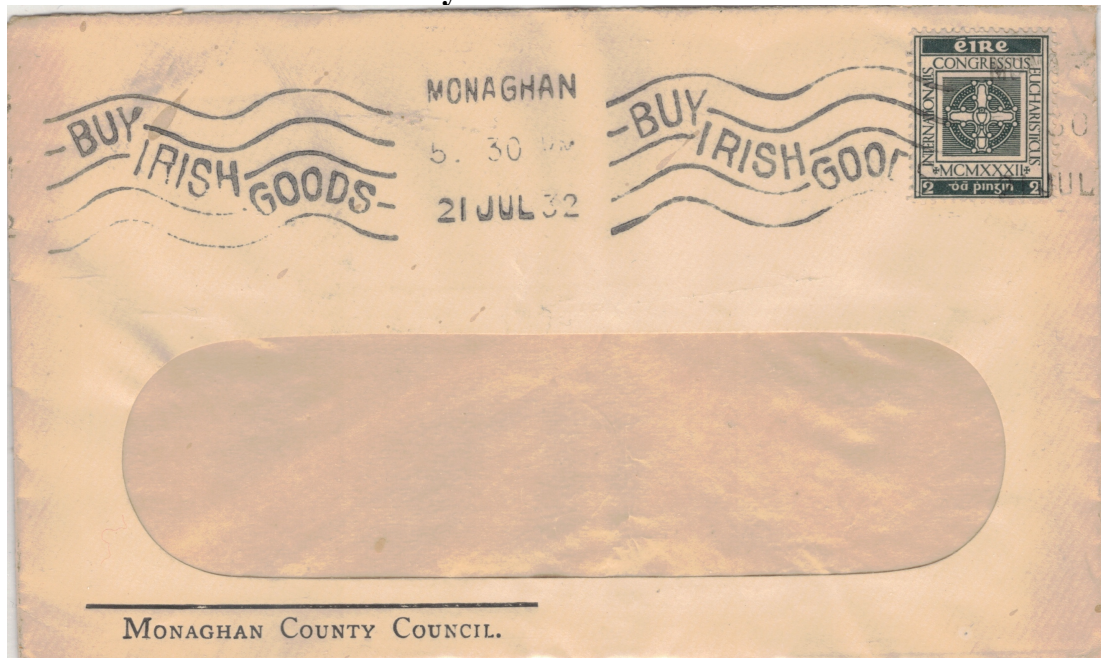

May I also put in a plug to help my collection? Also, I am looking for Staehle's Irish Castle covers from 1957, cancelled in the U.S., plus 1956 and 1963 cancelled in Erin, N.Y. If anyone wants to share these items with me I am available at wmackle751@gmail.com.

Thank you,
Willie Mackle #2688

A letter From Dr. James Keith Armour – Commenting on the Author's article in Winter Revealer

The Clones Affray 11 February 1922 -- Defending the Irish Free State or Botched Bank Robbery ?

Dear Robert,

I must admit I had never heard of the Clones Affray in February 1922 until I read your article on page 83 of the recent issue. I'm sad to say that it appears to have considerable bias and sensationalism of a character I have not noted before in "The Revealer". I would ask you to read Ronan McGreevy's article concerning the same incident. (Irish Times Monday 7th February 2022). It clearly illustrates the B- Specials were en route from Belfast to Enniskillen and were required to change train at Clones before events escalated out of control. (No mention of botched bank robbery, mob syndicates, or money laundering in Clones banks). Simply the wrong place, wrong time. Even today the Guards answering a call from Clones to Belturbet have to cross the border four times between Northern Ireland and the Republic. Thankfully no-one is shooting at them for their incursion into the North.

More balance please".

Regards, Dr Keith Armour.

Authors Comment

The more I study history > the more that I realize that many Battles and Wars are mostly about money or land and seldom about defending the honor of the homeland. I am still curious why there were 4 banks in Clones in 1922 and whose money was deposited in these banks (and Post office savings bank) in this small border community. Also, why was the local population so heavily armed in early February?

Irish Provisional Government and Free State Overprints on UK Adhesive Fiscal Stamps* (part 1)

John Lush FRPSL and Paul Skinner FRPSL

The Irish Provisional Government and Irish Free State overprints on UK adhesive fiscal stamps have received much less attention than their postage counterparts, largely because the relative scarcity of surviving fiscal items makes detailed philatelic study of them very difficult. They are included in several catalogues and other listings, but these are not always accurate. The purpose of this article is to provide, as far as possible, an accurate list of the different types of the overprints on fiscal stamps, and the stamps to which they were applied. Unless otherwise stated, the information is derived from the registration sheets of the overprinted stamps in the Board of Inland Revenue Stamping Department Archive or from the catalogue by Booth. Four different basic overprints were applied to over 200 fiscal stamps, compared with two basic overprints applied to 16 values of postage stamps (including both colours of the 9d stamp) (Cousins, 2014). There is much greater variety in the overprints on fiscal stamps because of the wide variety of stamp sizes and sheet formats, resulting in the use of 24 different overprinting plates.

The Board of Inland Revenue Stamping Department was located at Somerset House. The archive was transferred to the British Museum in January 1966 under the provisions of the Public Records Act 1958 (6&7 Eliz. II c.51), and is now held by the Philatelic Collections in the British Library. It mostly comprises embossed and printed stamps, and sheets of stamps, produced by (or under the control of) the Inland Revenue Stamping Department and its predecessors between 1710 and 1934. An index to its contents was compiled in about 1930, organised into six 'Lists' according to the type of material. For the present study the most important is List 2 comprising 'registration sheets', which are printed sheets of stamps endorsed with signed and dated 'registration certificates' specifying the printing location, date and purpose of the sheet of stamps. These are described as imprimatur sheets in the report of the Committee on Inland Revenue Contracts (National Archives 1910). List 3 comprises sheets of stamps described as 'registration sheets', which have no endorsements, but from which samples have been taken at various times. List 5 contains sheets of proofs of adhesive postage and fiscal stamps.

Historical Background

In the face of growing support for Irish Independence, William Gladstone introduced a Government of Ireland Bill in the House of Commons in 1886 but it was defeated, and the Liberal Government lost the resulting election. After his return to power in 1892, Gladstone introduced a second Government of Ireland Bill in 1893. It was passed by the House of Commons but was defeated in the House of Lords. Herbert Asquith made a third attempt to introduce a Government of Ireland Bill in 1912, again proposing a single Legislature with limited powers for the whole of Ireland. The bill gained a narrow majority in the House of Commons in January 1913, but was heavily rejected by the House of Lords in the same month. The bill was reintroduced in 1913, and was again passed by the House of Commons and rejected by the House of Lords. It was reintroduced again in 1914, with the same result. However, the Parliament Act (1&2 Geo. V c.13) had been passed in 1911, limiting the powers of the House of Lords, and providing that if an unchanged bill (other than a money bill) had been passed by the House of Commons in three successive sessions over a period of more than two years, that bill could be presented for Royal Assent even if it had again been rejected by the House of Lords.

*This article "Irish Provisional Government and Free State Overprints on UK Adhesive Fiscal Stamps" by John Lush and FRPSL and Paul Skinner FRPSL first appeared in The London Philatelist, Volume 132, April 2023, Number 1504. It is reproduced here in The Revealer with the kind permission of the Editor of The Royal Philatelic Society.

The Government of Ireland Act 1914 (4&5 Geo. V c.90) was given the Royal Assent on 18 September 1914 but, because of the outbreak of the Great War the previous month, the government passed the Suspensory Act 1914 (4&5 Geo. V c.88) earlier on the same day, postponing the operation of the Government of Ireland Act until the war ended. Following the war, the Government of Ireland Act 1920 (10&11 Geo. V c.67) was given the Royal Assent on 23 December 1920. It divided Ireland into Northern Ireland (the six counties of Antrim, Armagh, Down, Fermanagh, Londonderry and Tyrone, and the boroughs of Belfast and Londonderry), and Southern Ireland (the remaining counties and boroughs), each with its own Parliament. A Council of Ireland was also created 'With a view to the eventual establishment of a Parliament for the whole of Ireland, and to bringing about harmonious action between the parliaments and governments of Southern Ireland and Northern Ireland...' Northern Ireland was created as a separate legal entity on 3 May 1921 (SR&O).

Elections were held on 24 May 1921, but the Southern Ireland Parliament was boycotted by Sinn Féin (by far the largest party) and it was therefore suspended (The Times, 29 June 1921). The Northern Ireland Parliament was opened on 22 June 1921 by King George V. His appeal for Anglo-Irish and north-south reconciliation opened the door for formal contact between the British Government and the Irish Republican administration (The Times, 23 June 1921).

On 6 December 1921, Articles of Agreement for a Treaty between Great Britain and Ireland were signed, giving independence to the whole of Ireland, to be effective from 6 December 1922, as 'a co-equal member of the Community of Nations forming the British Commonwealth of Nations', with the same constitutional status as the Dominion of Canada, the Commonwealth of Australia, the Dominion of New Zealand, and the Union of South Africa, but giving Northern Ireland one month from the ratification of the Articles of Agreement to exercise an option to remain under the jurisdiction of the British Parliament (National Archives Ireland). Following acceptance of the Articles of Agreement by the Provisional Government of the Irish Free State, symbolic power was formally handed to the Provisional Irish Government on 16 January 1922 (The Times, 17 January 1922), but it only became fully effective on 1 April 1922 by the passing of the Irish Free State (Agreement) Act 1922 (12&13 Geo. V c.4) by the British Parliament. The Irish and British Parliaments then (respectively) passed the Irish Free State (Saorstát Eireann) Act 1922 on 25 October 1922 (No. 1/1922), and the Irish Free State Constitution Act 1922 (13 Geo. V s.2 C. 1), by which the Irish Free State came into existence by Royal Proclamation on 6 December 1922 (The Times, 7 December 1922). On the following day the Northern Ireland Parliament opted to remain part of the United Kingdom (The Times, 8 December 1922).

Like any new administration, the Provisional Irish Government was keen to produce its own postage stamps, as these would proclaim its existence and independence. Until new stamps could be designed and printed, resort was had to overprinting the existing stamps of the United Kingdom which were in use in Ireland at that time. The first overprint used on postage stamps was Rialtas Sealadaê na hEireann 1922 (Provisional Government of Ireland 1922) from 17 February 1922. By 6 December 1922, only one new Irish postage stamp was available - a 2d value showing a map of the whole of Ireland) - so United Kingdom stamps, including the 2d stamp, continued to be overprinted, but now with Saorstát Eireann 1922 (Irish Free State 1922), starting on 11 December 1922. Dulin reports that the absence of the new definitive stamps meant that the new overprint had to be produced hurriedly; its inscription was only approved at a ministerial meeting on 5 December 1922, the day before the new stamps were intended to have been issued (Dulin, 1922).

United Kingdom Fiscal Stamps used in Ireland

Most of the fiscal stamps in use in the United Kingdom at the time of Irish independence were of a key-type design with the profile portrait of George V and the value (duty) in the upper portion of the stamp, and with a blank panel at the bottom of the stamp on which was printed the 'appropriation' indicating the purpose for which the stamp was to be used. The stamps were produced in three sizes, for pence, shillings and pounds values. Examples are shown in the illustrations later in this article. Key-type fiscal stamps printed by De La Rue had been introduced in 1872 in an attempt to stem the proliferation of stamps of different designs produced for specific purposes, and to save money. The original key-type designs bore a profile portrait of Queen Victoria, and a new series of designs was introduced for the reign of Edward VII. The Edward VII designs were continued in the reign of George V (and subsequent reigns) using a portrait of the new monarch.

Fifteen different appropriations of UK key-type fiscal stamps were in use in Ireland at the time of Irish independence. Of these, eight appropriations were in use throughout the United Kingdom and seven were for use only in Ireland.

Following the report in April 1910 of the Inter-Departmental Committee on Inland Revenue Contracts (National Archives, 1910), De La Rue's contract was terminated, and responsibility for the production of postage stamps was passed to the Post Office, who did no printing of their own but contracted the work to various printers, including for the Rialtas and Saorstadt overprints. Responsibility for the production of fiscal stamps was left with the Stamping Department of the Inland Revenue at Somerset House, who mostly did their own printing.

After 1910, key-type fiscal stamps with the portrait of Edward VII, and a few early ones of George V, were printed at Somerset House on paper with one or two Orbs or script JR watermarks depending on value (respectively Booth Types 57, 59 and 60). The Multiple I Orb R watermark (Booth Type 61) was introduced for all values in 1916 and was used for all subsequent key-type fiscal stamps (as well as some late printings with the portrait of Edward VII), but watermark differences on key-type stamps have not been noted, as they do not affect the present study.

The key-type appropriations used throughout the United Kingdom, including Ireland, were:

Bankruptcy: used in Great Britain for the payment of fees incurred in the course of proceedings under the Bankruptcy Act 1869 (32&33 Vic. c.71). Until the end of the reign of Edward VII, Bankruptcy Ireland stamps were used in Ireland under the Bankruptcy (Ireland) Amendment Act 1872 (35&36 Vic. c.58) and later under the Supreme Court of Judicature (Ireland) (No.2) Act 1897 (60&61 Vic. c.66). In the reign of George V the stamps were all appropriated to Bankruptcy for use throughout the United Kingdom.

Civil Service: used to denote the fees payable by candidates for the open competitive examinations for entry to the Civil Service, organised by the Civil Service Commission which was established by Order in Council in 1855 (Chapman, 2004).

Companies Registration: used under the provisions of the Public Offices Fees Act 1866 (29&30 Vic. c.76) and 1879 (42&43 Vic. c.58) for the payment of fees for administrative procedures involved in all aspects of the formation and regulation of limited companies as specified in the Companies Act 1862 (25&26 Vic. c.89).

Contract Note: used under the Stamp Duties (No. 2) Act 1860 (23&24 Vic. c. 111) and the Customs and Inland Revenue Act 1888 (51&52 Vic. c.8) for the duty payable on contract notes, which are written notes or memoranda notifying a client of the purchase or sale of shares and the like on his behalf.

Estate Duty: used for the duty payable under the Finance Act 1894 (57&58 Vic. c.30) on the principal value of all property (the estate) passed, or deemed to have passed, on the death of a person. Estate Duty of €11 Os and £2 1 O was payable on small estates where the gross value of the estate did not exceed £300 or £500 respectively, and at an increasing percentage of the value of larger estates.

Foreign Bill: introduced by the Stamp Act 1854 (17&18 Vic. c.83) for the duty imposed on foreign bills of exchange or promissory notes, i.e. those not both drawn and payable within any part of the United Kingdom, Isle of Man or Channel Islands, or upon some person resident therein.

Income Tax: introduced to facilitate the payment of income tax by workers newly drawn within the scope of income tax by the Finance (No. 2) Act 1915 (5&6 Geo. V c.89). They were overprinted Saorstát Eireann for use in the Irish Free State, but the overprinted stamps were never issued - the use of income tax stamps in Ireland ceased on 6 April 1924 (No. 27/1924).

Official Arbitration (Land): used to pay the fees charged in connection with procedures before the Official Arbitration (Land) Tribunal set up under the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act 1919 (9&10 Geo. V c.57) to resolve disputes over compensation for land compulsorily acquired for war purposes under the Defence of the Realm (Acquisition of Land) Act 1916 (6&7 Geo. V c.63).

The key-type appropriations used only in Ireland (while part of the United Kingdom) were:

County Courts Ireland: used to pay the fees connected with civil proceedings brought in the Irish County Courts which were created by the County Officers and Courts (Ireland) Act 1877 (40&41 Vic. c.56).

Ireland Petty Sessions: used to pay the fees charged by the Petty Sessions courts (the approximate equivalent of Magistrates Courts in England and Wales) under the Petty Sessions Clerk (Ireland) Act 1858 (21&22 Vic. c.100). The 6d stamp was produced in two colours – red for proceedings initiated by the constabulary, and green for private actions (Lundy). Some of the 6d green stamps were overprinted For Dog Licence to be used for the registration fee charged when issuing dog licences (Mansfield 2003).

Ireland Registration of Deeds: used from 1861 (24&25 Vic. c.91) for the fees chargeable on the registration of deeds under the (Irish) Registration of Deeds Act 1707 (6 Anne c.2 (Ireland)).

Judicature Ireland: used for the fees payable to the Supreme Court of Judicature for Ireland, established in 1877 (40&41 Vic. c.57).

Land Commission Ireland: used for the fees payable to the Irish Land Commission established under the Land Law (Ireland) Act 1881 (44&45 Vic. c.49), which was empowered initially to grant 'judicial tenancies' of land, and subsequently to assist tenants to buy the land they occupied.

Land Registry of Ireland: used from 1 January 1892 under the Local Registration of Title (Ireland) Act 1891 (54&55 Vic. c.66) for the charges payable on the registration of the ownership of freehold land, registration being compulsory when land was bought or sold.

Records Ireland: used after 1888 to pay for the services (e.g. searches, copies) provided by the Public Records Office in Ireland, established by the Public Records (Ireland) Act 1867 (3001 Vic. c.70).

Fiscal stamps of specific (non key-type) designs were in use for some purposes. At the time of Irish independence these were for National Health Insurance, Unemployment Insurance, Excise Revenue and (Irish) Dog Licences. The Dog Licence stamps pre-dated the use of keytype designs, and continued in use long after Irish independence. The use of specific designs for the other purposes was partly because the range of values required was not available in the keytype range, and because all values in each of the National Health and Unemployment Insurance stamps series had to be the same size to be affixed to insurance cards.

Dog License (sic): only used in Ireland. Dog Licences were introduced in Ireland under the Dogs Regulation (Ireland) Act 1865 (28&29 Vic. c.50) in response to increasing attacks on livestock. It was made unlawful to keep dogs without a licence or to fail to produce a valid licence on request. The stamps were the same size as the pence stamps of the key-type design, but were in horizontal format. There were initially three values: 2s, 10s and £1, the higher values being for when five or ten dogs were licensed simultaneously. From 1910 Dog License stamps were printed by the Inland Revenue Stamping Department at Somerset House. Each issued licence bore two stamps, a Dog License stamp for the licence itself and a 6d green Ireland Petty Sessions stamp additionally overprinted 'For Dog Licence' (in two lines) for the registration fee.

In 1919 the licence fee was doubled to 4s for each dog by the Dogs Regulation (Ireland) Act 1919 (9&10 Geo. V c.81), effective from 1 April 1920, and 4s Dog License stamps were issued in January 1921.

Excise Revenue: used throughout the United Kingdom. They were introduced under the Finance (New Duties) Act 1916 (6&7 Geo. V c.11) for the excise duty levied on payments for admission to most places of entertainment. The 8s and 10s stamps were printed in sheets of 20, the other stamps (up to 5s) in sheets of 144. From 1921 the 3s stamp and all stamps up to 1s were printed in sheets of 120.
